Greg Lyle
President, Innovative Research Group

Greg Lyle is the Founder and President of Innovative Research Group Inc. (INNOVATIVE), a national public opinion research and consultation firm with offices in Toronto and Vancouver. INNOVATIVE is focused on connecting its clients with the audiences that are critical to achieving their goals.

As a former principal secretary to Manitoba premier Gary Filmon, Greg has built a career at the intersection of public opinion, communications, and public policy. With over 30 years of communications and opinion research experience, Greg and his team of twenty-five researchers use a full range of research tools to provide strategic counsel to public, private and not-for-profit clients across a variety of sectors including financial services, transportation, resource industries, energy, and health care.

Greg has a strong background in energy. Since 2007, INNOVATIVE has run an annual national study on siting infrastructure that has tracked views on pipelines, shale gas, electricity transmission and various forms of generations. INNOVATIVE's custom clients include pipelines, petroleum producers, electricity generators, transmission companies, distributors, and regulators.

Much of Greg's current work has focused on social permission. On issues ranging from toll roads to higher electricity rates to wind farms and transmission lines, INNOVATIVE has delivered strategic and communications research as well as running research-based public consultations.

Greg's polls have been highlighted in such media as the Economist, the Wall Street Journal and most Canadian news outlets. In 2016, Greg received the Public Affairs Association of Canada Award of Distinction. He also holds the Certified Analytics and Insights Profession (CAIP) designation.

INNOVATIVE's polls have been highlighted in media across the country. In 2016, Greg received the Public Affairs Association of Canada Award of Distinction. Greg splits his time between Vancouver and Toronto with regular stops in Calgary and lives in Gibsons, BC.
